CHRISTIAN WRITER'S WORKSHOP

January 16
8:30 AM-5 PM

ACM's Offices
105 S. Main St.
Greenwood WI.

Cost: $100
Lunch provided

A day-long writing workshop geared for Christians, hosted by Athanatos Christian Ministries (Dr. Anthony Horvath and instructor and writing contest judge, Debbie Thompson).

This workshop will provide the author with opportunities to refine their writing ability and consider what it means to be a 'Christian' author. The workshop will include practical guidance on story elements, such as plot and character development. It will also feature thought-provoking principles for Christians who desire that their stories do more than entertain. Attending authors will submit in advance a writing sample that is no longer than 3,000 words, which they will also evaluate throughout the workshop, both privately and in small group discussion, in light of what is learned throughout the workshop. The workshop concludes with tips on writing for publication. The workshop is hosted by Athanatos Christian Ministries, which is known internationally for its Christian writing contests and online writing workshops.

Email Dr. Anthony Horvath at director@athanatosministries.org or call 202-697-4623 to confirm your attendance and make payment arrangements. Learn more at www.christianwritingworkshops.com.
